

GoTonight helps people find live music in their area every day. We work with neighborhood venues, artists and patrons to offer complete and convenient information. We think music is fun, brings people together, and is important to the vitality of the community.

More People finding More Shows

"GoTonight.com is an expanding local live music show listing platform serving all of Florida, attracting over 50,000 unique users and nearly 250,000 page views each month."

Our coverage of neighborhood shows is far more complete and accurate than is provided by other services. The reason for this is that we have "Community Music Activists" at the heart of our data collection operation, helping venues and artists list their shows. Their hands-on involvement is the catalyst for more participation and excitement, creating value for everyone involved in local live music.

Why Help?

Everyone deserves to easily discover live music happening near them. At GoTonight, our mission is to make that vision a reality by expanding our platform across Florida, providing affordable access to local live music information for search engines, travel apps, tourist bureaus, and entertainment sites. As a community-driven platform, our only source of revenue comes from affordable advertisements. By supporting GoTonight with a low-cost banner ad or newsletter announcement, you're not only helping sustain the growth of our platform, but also supporting Florida's vibrant live music scene. Your contribution helps ensure that music lovers and performers alike can thrive!
